

Cubic Yardage Explained

(There are roughly five large wheelbarrow loads per cubic yard)

1 CUBIC YARD = 3' x 3' x 3'

Average Coverage of 1 Cubic Yard

At This Depth (Inches)	Covers This Area (Square Feet)
1" Deep	300 Sq Ft
2" Deep	150 Sq Ft
3" Deep	100 Sq Ft
4" Deep	75 Sq Ft

The formula looks like this:

$$\text{Cubic Yards} = \frac{(\text{Length} \times \text{Width} \times \text{Depth})}{27}$$

If your beds have weird shapes, just separate them into rectangles!

If you have an area 100' x 4' (400 square feet), and want to put the material 3" deep:

Convert the depth into feet by dividing 3 by 12 (12"=1', so 3"=0.25').

Multiply the square footage area by the depth, 400x0.25=100.

Divide the total cubic footage by 27 to convert it to cubic yardage 100/27=3.71 (Round up to 3 3/4 cy).

This area needs roughly 3.75 cubic yards of stone/mulch/soil. Using the chart on the left, 1 yard covers 100 sf at 3" deep, so 400 sf so you would need 4 cubic yards.

There are converters on line or apps available to help you calculate how much material you would need, or just give us a call or email!

For Seeded Lawns:

When planting seed, make sure the soil is not too compact. Loose soil consisting of particles from a quarter to one inch. Gently rake the seed into the topsoil, do not bury it. Your seeded lawn needs to be watered in each section for at least 30 minutes for proper saturation. Over-watering a seeded area can result in wash-out, so take care to monitor areas for standing water. After one month, the lawn is ready for its first cutting. Set the lawn mower at its highest setting when cutting for the first time. Subsequent cuttings can be lower, but remember that keeping the grass higher keeps the ground moist and the lawn greener and weed-free. Do not apply any weed killer for one year from the time of seeding. Follow the fertilizing schedule of once a month during the growing season from May-October. Use as starter fertilizer with an analysis 10-10-10 in the spring, then 10-10-10 each month, with a final application of 10-10-10 in the fall.

For Sod Lawns:

Sod requires a greater amount of water compared to seeded lawns. Keep the lawn well-saturated for 14 days after installation, until the grass roots into the existing ground. Watering sod areas for two hours every day will be adequate. It is almost impossible to over-water sod. Use impact-head sprinklers when watering for the best, most-even coverage when watering. You can reduce the watering after two weeks, and begin cutting if the grass is well-rooted to the existing soil. The grass in the sod is at least a year old, so it can be treated like a year-old established lawn for fertilizing. Follow the fertilizing schedule above for keeping your lawn healthy.

Other Services

Besides outstanding landscape work, we also do snow removal and sanding and/or salting during the winter. We limit residential service to the east side. We do not offer yard maintenance services, but can recommend companies for tree trimming, removal, lawn cutting or fertilizing, shrub pruning, etc.

Design Services

Want your landscape professionally designed? Contact our design team to set up an appointment. Whether you're having us install it, or doing it yourself, we can create a custom design that addresses all your concerns and works best for your project's location.

Before You Visit Us:

Wear comfortable, off-road type sports or hiking shoes or boots for gravel and mulch (flip-flops, high-healed shoes, open-toed shoes, or dress shoes are not recommended).

Strollers are fine if they have larger wheels, as skinny wheels have trouble pushing through the gravel or mulch parts of the yard.

We occasionally apply herbicides and pesticides to our plants, so be aware of sensitivities to these (we are required by law to apply control measures for weeds and pests).

Dress for the weather-Spring can be especially unpredictable-dress in layers and prepare for rainy weather.

You are welcome to drive through our sales yard, but please be aware of hazards & pedestrians. Please park your vehicle out of the way of traffic. Items can be loaded into your vehicle and brought to a check-out area such as our sales office or seasonal greenhouse.

Ask for help before loading items that may be too heavy for one person to lift.

Do not take plants tagged "sold" for other customers or projects.

If you need help, and do not see a sales person, call or come to the office, and we will be happy to assist you.

Remember that the pots of dirt the plants come in are dirty, and may need something to protect your vehicle from getting dirty.
